

Things to Do

River Street - One could not come to Savannah without admiring the river on River Street. The old cobblestone streets weave you through historic buildings, housing shops and restaurants. This scenic stroll is a must-do.

Forsyth Park - Forsyth Park is perfect for lounging in the grass or throwing a Frisbee. Dating back to the 1840s, Forsyth Park occupies 30 acres in the Historic District. The iconic water fountain at the center is a landmark in itself, but Fragrant Garden, walking trails and a quaint cafe make for a relaxing spot on your itinerary.

Historic Sites – Savannah is home to many historic landmarks. Some tourist favorites include: The Owens-Thomas House; a prime example of English Regency architecture large enough to fill a block, also a National Historic Landmark. The Cathedral of St. John the Baptist; called the most impressive building in all of Savannah its' towering spires and stained glass are sure to take your breath away. Old Fort Jackson; the oldest standing brick fort within Georgia, built in 1808 and it was at one time one of the strongest fortifications in the entire United States. Additions were made to the fort during the War of 1812, and it looks much the same today as it did at that time. Find more options here!

City Market - Easily within reach of all your sightseeing in Savannah, the City Market is four blocks of open air shopping, all surrounded by restored warehouses with tons of cute extra shopping, plus dining and art.
